MONTHLY ROUND UP FROM THE PROVINCE

R.E.Kt. Dean Robert White - The Provincial Prior

Dear Brother Knights,

This month I would like to share an email received from one of our new Knights after a recent meeting- it was very heart-warming to know that our hard-work and effort was so appreciated, and I can personally think of no better way to starting the introduction of the April Travelling Knights newsletter and what it means to us.

“Dear Provincial Vice-Chancellor;

I wanted to take a moment to thank you for all the support you provided at last night’s ceremony at Terra Sancta, and for the Provincial Prior whose presence and approach was very much appreciated.

From someone who had only attended a single initiation (following his own) and obviously had very little clue as to what was what, you were an inspiration and led proceedings with humility, patience and above all maintained a sense of humour throughout.

Last night was somewhat a test for me following my last visit, and you have single handedly changed my opinion of KT and for that I wish to thank you - I now feel something close to inspired and I wish to continue in the order; and having spoken only this morning spoken my Craft WM I may even have a potential candidate in the making.

Again, my thanks to yourself and the provincial team for everything that you do.”

As always, I look forward to seeing many of you on my travels around the Preceptories.

Yours in the Bonds of the Order

R.E.Kt. Dean Robert White

The Knights of Malta – a History part one

(Source Wikipedia)

The historic “Knights of the Order of St John of Jerusalem” (Knights Hospitaller) were founded in Jerusalem during the first Crusade, about the year 1099, by the association of many pious Knights with the Brothers of St John’s Hospital, which had been founded earlier that same century, for the relief of pilgrims travelling to worship at the Holy Sepulchre.

M.E. & S.Kt. Paul R. Clement,
G.C.M. Grand Master

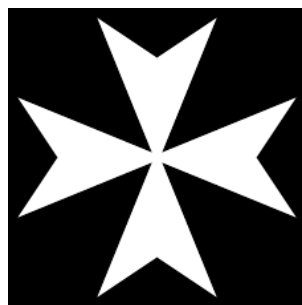

In 603, Pope Gregory I commissioned the Ravennate Abbot Probus, who was previously Gregory's emissary at the Lombard court, to build a hospital in Jerusalem to treat and care for Christian pilgrims to the Holy Land.[2] In 800, Emperor Charlemagne enlarged Probus' hospital and added a library to it. About 200 years later, in 1009, the Fatimid caliph al-Hakim bi-Amr Allah destroyed the hospital and three thousand other buildings in Jerusalem.

Merchants from Amalfi in southern Italy were given permission by the Egyptian Fatimid Caliph al-Mustansir Billah (r. 1036–1094) to build a monastery in Jerusalem, near the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. The monastery, known as the abbey of St Mary of the Latins (to distinguish them from local Syriac Orthodox Church hierarchy), was served by the Order of Saint Benedict and took in Christian pilgrims travelling to visit the Christian holy sites. The increase in the number of pilgrims led the Benedictine monks to establish two hospitals in the late 1060s, one for men and one for women, with the former known as the Hospital of St John. They did this with the support of a wealthy Amalfian named Mauro of Pantaleone. In the early 1070s the hospital was visited by Archbishop John of Amalfi during his pilgrimage. In later centuries, to help raise money in Europe, the Order of St John made claims that the hospital had been founded more than a century before Christ by the high priest Menelaus and the Greek King Antiochus of Jerusalem, with financing from Judas Maccabeus, and that it was first headed by Saint Stephen and had been visited by Christ and the Apostles. A historian of the Order in the 13th century wrote that this version was not true. In any case, the Hospitallers rose to fame and prestige in a short amount of time.

The Knights of Malta – a History part one

By the time of the success of the First Crusade in 1099, the Hospital of St John was already well known among pilgrims and was regarded as a separate organization from the monastery of St Mary. The monastic brothers at the hospital saw it as their duty to provide the best possible treatment to the poor. They were given an endowment by Godfrey of Bouillon, the leader of the First Crusade, before he died in 1100. The Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem, Ghibbelin of Arles, formally recognized it as a separate entity from the monastery when he reformed the Catholic hierarchy in Palestine, and a step towards this was taken by Pope Paschal II when he recognized the abbey of St Mary as a church of the Holy See, placing it under his protection and exempting it from paying tithes on its land, on 19 June 1112. The monastic Hospitaller Order was formally created when the Pope issued the papal bull Pie postulatio voluntatis on 15 February 1113 to the head of the Hospital of St John, Blessed Gerard de Martigues. The Pope subordinated the hospital to his own authority and exempted it from paying tithes on the lands it owned, and gave the right to its professed brothers to elect their master. He also placed several other hospitals and hospices in southern Italy under the governance of the Hospital of St John in Jerusalem, as they were located at port cities from which pilgrims traveled to the Holy Land.

Sir Oliver Starkey Preceptory no. 430

Sir Oliver Starkey Preceptory, Tuesday 25th March, the second Provincial Team Visit of 2025!

47 Knights arrived at Slough Masonic Centre to enjoy a superb evening and festive board.

The Eminent Preceptor, E.Kt. Kevin Shannon installed his successor E.Kt. Vincent Peacock into the chair of the Preceptory. E.Kt. Vincent being a long serving member of the Bodyguard welcomed 16 members of the Bodyguard team who arrived to support him on his very special day.

The Provincial Prior R.E.Kt. Dean White with the Sub-Prior E.Kt. Malcolm Woolgar attended with a good number of the active Provincial officers in support of the team visit.

Members of the Provincial Prior`s Bodyguard arrived under the Command of Kt. Mark Harry to support the Provincial Prior.

The ceremony was further enhanced by several joining members and a proposal for a new candidate which bodes well for the future and ceremony work for the new Eminent Preceptor.

A great evening and the support shown for a hard-working member of the bodyguard was fantastic!

THE HISTORY OF ST HUGH 314

The Preceptory of St Hugh No 314 was consecrated on 7th April 1948. The Consecrating officer was V E Kt Major R L Loyd, Provincial Prior, assisted by the Provincial Prelate E Kt Rev Canon W M Peacock. The first Eminent Preceptor was E Kt Capt F Gardiner, the Chaplain was Kt Rev W Manton and the Registrar was E Kt Major G D Amery MC, PPrGStdB.

The Banner of the Preceptory carries the coat of arms of St Hugh of Lincoln, for which special permission was granted by Robert, Bishop of Lincoln in 1995. The banner was made in tapestry by E.Kt Stephen Russell and his wife and donated to the Preceptory. The banner consecration was held on 11th July 1996 and conducted by the Provincial Prior R E Kt Leslie Felgate Dring. It was one of his last official duties as Provincial Prior before becoming Most Eminent and Supreme Grand Master in the following year.

Hugh was born as the son of Guillame, seigneur of Avalon, France in 1140. His mother died when he was only eight years old, following which his father retired to the local Benedictine Monastery taking young Hugh with him.

Hugh thrived on the monastic life and was ordained as a deacon at only nineteen years of age. He soon left the Benedictine Order to join the Grande Chartreuse, a monastic house near Grenoble that had a fast-growing reputation for rigid austerity and the piety of its members. Hugh rose through the order and in 1179 journeyed to England to head the new Witham Charterhouse in Somerset. This Priory had been recently established by King Henry II as a penance for the death of Thomas a Beckett.

When Hugh arrived at the priory he found it in a sorry state and promptly set about building it up to one of the great monasteries of its time. He was a critic of the way that the church was deprived of funds that were siphoned away to the crown, and set up a major conference to reform the way bishops were appointed. When he was elected as Bishop of Lincoln in 1186 he insisted that the clergy confirmed his appointment with their own private election away from the influences of the crown so that he was certain he enjoyed their support.

THE HISTORY OF ST HUGH 314

Hugh quickly established his independence from the King. He saw his office as a protector of the downtrodden and constantly cautioned his monarch that it was their duty to protect the people that God had placed in their care. He was constantly travelling through his diocese, meticulously ensuring the right appointments to senior positions, improving education and helping the poor and humble members of society. Hugh was unflinching in his dealings and stood up to three all-powerful monarchs, Henry II and his equally belligerent sons Richard the Lionheart and King John. That he was able to do this against such single minded and powerful men was in itself a triumph of diplomacy and dignity, as well as a testimony to the values of humility, courage, constancy and faith with which he carried out his work.

Hugh of Avalon died in London on November 16th 1200 following an illness incurred on a diplomatic trip to France on behalf of King John. He was buried in Lincoln Cathedral and thousands flocked to pay their final respects. Today the Knights of the Preceptory try their best to live up to the high ideal standards of humility, courage, constancy and faith so nobly displayed by St. Hugh of Lincoln.
